Krunomir Dvorski is self-driven, creative, enthusiastic, open-minded, dedicated, and motivated for teamwork, new technologies, success and glory.

Krunomir Dvorski

Born in 1954, spent his childhood in Zavidovici of the former Yugoslavia. He studied, got married and lived in Zagreb, Croatia for 22 years before moving to Canada in 1994. He graduated from University of Zagreb in Electrical Engineering with Bachelors and Masters degrees. His broad knowledge allowed him the opportunity to work on the USA-Croatian project "Electrostatic Determination of Voltage Unit". Krunomir also taught various metrological and electrical engineering courses, has published a student textbook and numerous papers. In 1999 he started working at the University of Waterloo as an Electronic Technologist, designing and constructing various projects for the Faculty of Science. With his extensive technical background in engineering, Krunomir turns to the arts as his passionate hobby. As a hobby physicist and cosmologist he developed The Flipping Theory, which is an alternative to the Big Bang Theory and a profound source of inspiration for his art.

The active spot for Krunomir is Kitchener Waterloo Society of Artists and Gallery Krunomir, where he creates, shows and enjoys the art of drawing, carving and sculpting people. He believes that hands, pencils, and carving knives are indispensable tools with incredible possibilities. His artworks are displayed in Gallery Krunomir, published in several of books, magazines, blogs and Wikipedia.
